

I can think of no more effective way to kill the acceptance of HDTV than to prevent recording of broadcasts. I tape TV broadcasts for later viewing, and do not ever intend to buy a receiver that prevents me from doing so.